Original hotels for wherever life takes you.

Hotel Skyler Syracuse, On May 31, 2017, the Tapestry Collection by Hilton officially launched its first hotel in Salt Lake City. The original building of the hotel was built in 1922 and was once the residence of the Temple Adath Yeshurun congregation, later becoming the location of the Salt Lake City Performing Arts Center.

The Bernic New York City As the first Tapestry Collection by Hilton in New York, the hotel is located next to a landmark building in New York City and draws inspiration from the surrounding environment. The hotel features paintings by well-known local artists, which have also become a seasonal fixed decoration for the hotel.

The Wilbur Lititz, Here we can travel to the chocolate factory of the 1930s, where the hotel features well preserved factory details and original red brick masonry. Upon arrival, the aroma of chocolate wafts in the air.

Hotel Resonance Taipei As the first Tapestry Collection by Hilton in the Asia Pacific region, the exterior design story starts from a film box, slicing every memorable moment of the guests into happy memories. The physical properties of film are used to extend the design framework and hierarchy of indoor space, perfectly blending nature and human construction, presenting beautiful moments and carefully preserved memories.

Hollick Hotel Wen' an Belonging to the renowned Australian Holic Winery brand, guests can experience the unique Australian wine culture and the passionate traditions of China. Guests can fully immerse themselves in the wine culture and natural beauty.

Hotel Story

The resort's design is rooted in a touching legend about a young fisherman named Ah Fu and a mermaid trapped in a wooden box. Legend has it that Ah Fu rescued the mermaid while fishing, and in return, she granted his wish for the people of the bay to lead better, more prosperous lives. This act of kindness sparked a love story that moved the mermaid to teach the locals fishing techniques and gift Ah Fu a golden "Fu Bowl" that attracted fish when struck three times.

Hotel Lobby

Upon entering the hotel lobby, guests are greeted by a blue-green sculpture crafted from coloured resin, with intricate patterns representing the mermaid's underwater home. Above the sculpture, pearl-shaped chandeliers and wall decorations featuring coral and seashells mimic an underwater wonderland.

Reception Area

In the reception area, a magnificent sculpture created from over 60,000 mother-of-pearl beads takes centre stage, resembling a mermaid swimming freely in the ocean. As guests arrive, the sea breeze gently rustles the beads, creating a melodic sound reminiscent of a mermaid's song.

Mermoon Rooms

The hotel boasts 116 guest rooms and suites, all thoughtfully designed to immerse guests in the fishing village theme. Each room features a private balcony that offers stunning views of Tufu Bay or the magnificent South China Sea. The bathroom is designed to resemble a wooden boat filled with marine treasures, where the vanity mirror is supported by a pearl chandelier and the sliding door features fish scale motifs, completing the ocean-themed experience.
